There are almost as many eating places in London as Licenced Cab Drivers, over 22,000, here are over 3,000 restaurants which I hope are ones that will help you in your day to day work. They are only in post codes, E1, E2, E3, E8, E9, E14, E16, EC1, EC2, EC3, EC4, N1, N4, N5, N6, N7, N8, N10, N16, NW1, NW2, NW3, NW5, NW6, NW8, NW10, NW11, SE1, SE5, SE10, SE11, SE176, SE17, SW1, SW2, SW3, SW4, SW5, SW6, SW7, SW8, SW9, SW10, SW11, SW13, SW15, SW18, SW19, W1, W2, W4, W6, W8, W9, W11, W14, WC1 & WC2, although other post codes may have crept in.

Notes.

A name in square brackets [] after the restaurant name indicates the restaurant is inside a hotel and it's name.. Words in round brackets () are comments to help you find it.

Restaurant locations have been obtained from various sources and local knowledge. Neither BT Directory or Yellow pages were used as you would not want all kebab and chips shops listed.

The words "Restaurant", "Bar", "The", "Club", "and", "Hotel" & "Diner" have been removed in most cases to save on space, so use your imagination if the restaurant name looks a bit short.

Names are in "number" then A to Z order. N.B. the "242" restaurant is shown as "# 242" in the numeric section, the "Number 3" restaurant is shown as "no. 3" in the numeric section, BUT the "One-O-One" restaurant is listed under "O". Therefore if a numbered restaurant is not in the numeric section try under the appropriate letter section.

The alphabetical order is col 1 col 2 then col 3, if it continues onto the next page then it continues from the last entry on col 3 to col 1 on the next page..

The occasional "and" and "&" may be found due to the bulk deletion of words such and "Restaurant" and "Bar"

Full postcodes have been included, where possible, to assist SatNav users.
